

FAIRFAX COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT

ACTIVITY REPORT

MAY 5, 2006

ACTIVITIES REPORTED THROUGH MAY 3, 2006

PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE -- 703-246-2253

There are three sections in this report: Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS; Section II: PROPERTY CRIMES; and, Section III: ANIMAL RELATED INCIDENTS. Sections are appropriately identified. Within the sections, incidents are organized by station, then by type of offense. They are listed alphabetically by street address.

Addresses shown indicate blocks and not specific locations. Thus an entry showing Chain Bridge Road 4100 would mean the 4100 block of Chain Bridge Road, not the address 4100 Chain Bridge Road.

An asterisk (*) before an item indicates that an incident report was distributed on that offense.

DEER AND DRIVING

*The Fairfax County Police Department advises citizens to be vigilant for deer while driving during May and June when fawns are mobile. Deer become more active at this time of year which leads to an increase in deer/automobile collisions. To avoid or survive a dangerous and often costly collision with deer, drivers should always follow normal safety precautions such as wearing a seat belt, being alert and driving cautiously, especially at dawn and dusk when deer are most active or if you see a deer crossing sign. The following driving tips are offered specifically when you encounter deer:

- When you see a deer on a roadway, flash your headlights from bright to dim and honk the horn to encourage it to move away from the road. Drive with lights on during overcast days and use high beams at night whenever possible. (Though headlights can confuse deer, the reflecting light from their eyes will help you to see them.) Warn drivers following you of the presence of deer by tapping on your brakes.
- When you spot a deer near the roadway, slow down and be ready for the animal to dart into the road. Honk your horn to try to scare the deer away. Deer often travel in groups, so if you see one deer near the roadway, be cautious for others.
- If a deer runs into the roadway, try to slow down or brake without swerving. Losing control of your car and crashing into another car or a stationary object can be more dangerous than hitting the deer.
- If you cannot avoid hitting a deer, slow down and grasp the steering wheel firmly with both hands. Take your foot off the brake at the time of impact so the front end of your vehicle will lift up and enable the deer to go under the car, rather than over it (reducing the danger of it crashing through the windshield or windows). If the animal is injured or killed in Fairfax County, report the collision through the non-emergency line at (703) 691-2131.

FALLEN OFFICER MEMORIAL SERVICE

*The Fairfax County Police Department honors its fallen officers. On Monday, May 8, at 11 a.m., a memorial service will be held at the Public Safety Rose Garden. The garden is located in back of the Massey building at 4100 Chain Bridge Road in Fairfax, VA. The Fairfax County Police Department remembers three officers who died in the line of duty. Officer Karen Bassford was killed in an automobile crash while responding to a burglary call on July 27, 1977. Special Officer Hendrik "Sandy" Gideonse was killed in a crash on December 3, 1998 while working. Captain Tommy Bernal was killed when a vehicle struck his motorcycle during a training exercise. Colonel David M. Rohrer, Chief of the Fairfax County Police Department, the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, members of the deceased officers' families and members of the Fairfax County Police Department all plan on attending the event. The public and media are invited to attend.

BLOCK THE BOX

*Congestion worsens when intersections are blocked and traffic patterns become disrupted. Therefore, officers from the Sully District Station have begun a traffic initiative aimed at encouraging drivers not to "block the box." An electronic message board will be posted for several months at designated areas. It is intended to educate the public about their legal obligation to keep intersections clear of vehicles. Officers will target their enforcement efforts at intersections with the most prevalent traffic violations. Police will ticket offenders at the intersections of Lee Highway and Pleasant Valley Road; New Braddock Road and Sully Road; Lee Jackson Memorial Highway and Airline Parkway. The enforcement began on April 27 and will be conducted primarily during the morning and evening rush hours and continue for six months. The Fairfax County Police Department hopes that the initiative will improve traffic conditions on our highways.

Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS

ARREST IN FATAL CRASH

*On Dec 3, 2004, 16-year-old Lauren Sausville died in a car crash. She was following a car driven by a 17-year-old Clifton-area friend. Sausville was driving southbound on Colchester Road approaching the intersection of Fairfax Station Road. She lost control of the car, a 1999 Ford Explorer, at a curve and hit an embankment. The car flipped onto the driver's side and skidded down toward the intersection where it impacted the rear of the friend's car, a 1994 Mazda MX-6. Sausville was dead at the scene. The driver of the Mazda was charged with DWI. After further investigation Fairfax County police issued three misdemeanor warrants for Landon C. Cousins, 27, of Clifton. Two warrants were issued for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and one warrant was issued for buying alcohol for an underage person. The investigation revealed that Cousins bought beer for Lauren Sausville on the night she died. Her blood alcohol level was .13 at the time of the crash. Landon C. Cousins was arrested in Franklin, Tennessee. He is currently being held without bond by the Franklin City Police Department, pending the extradition process. It is unknown when he will be returned to Fairfax County to face the charges. Captain Jesse Bowman, Commander of the Traffic Division said, "Fairfax County Police strictly enforce the laws regarding underage drinking. When evidence exists to place charges on an adult who knowingly purchases alcohol for underage people, we will aggressively pursue those adults, utilizing all legal options available." The legal limit for persons under the age of 21 is .02.

ARREST IN COLD CASE

*In December of 1988, a citizen found two bodies in a field in Reston. They were identified as Rachel Raver and Warren Fulton, both 22. They had been shot to death and Rachel had been sexually assaulted. The crime remained unsolved for 17 years. Fairfax County Cold Case detectives entered untested DNA into the Virginia DNA database in 2000 and a match was made to the murder of Veronica Lynn Jefferson, 24, which Arlington County Cold Case detectives were investigating. The Arlington County murder occurred in May 1988. A suspect was not matched to the DNA. In the summer of 2005 the DNA was matched to an inmate on death row in a California prison. That inmate, now a suspect in the Fairfax County and Arlington County murders, was identified as Alfredo R. Prieto. Prieto, 40, was indicted for the Fairfax County murders in November 2005 and for the Arlington murder in December 2005. Fairfax County and Arlington County officers traveled to California to return Prieto to Fairfax to face the charges. He arrived on Friday night, April 28, 2006. He is charged with one count of grand larceny, two counts of use of a firearm in the commission of a felony, one count of rape and two counts of capital murder in the Fairfax case. In Arlington, Prieto faces one count of use of a firearm in the commission of a felony, one count of robbery, one count of abduction, one count of rape and one count of capital murder. He will be held at the Fairfax County Adult Detention Center.
